(一)

Listening to Mozart and baroque music can help you learn better. Some benefits are higher test scores, shorter learning time, and fewer mistakes. Dr. Lozanov proved this when he studied a group of students. The students learned a foreign language faster when they listened to baroque music. Why do these types of music help, but not others? It is because they have 60 beats per minute. This rhythm makes both sides of the brain work. When a person uses both sides of the brain at the same time, they can remember more information.

 Mozart 莫札特；baroque 巴洛克式的；benefit 好處；prove 證實；beat 拍子；rhythm 節奏；brain 大腦

45. What kind of music helps one learn better?

- (A) Jazz. (B) Country music. (C) Rock'n'roll. (D) Baroque and Mozart.

46. Which benefit of listening to Mozart and baroque music is not mentioned?

 mention 提到

- (A) Learn a foreign language faster. (B) Get worse grades.
(C) Make the learning time shortened. (D) Do things carefully.

47. What is true about the rhyme of Mozart and baroque music?

- (A) It is too fast. (B) It makes people sleepy.
(C) It has six beats per minute. (D) It makes both sides of the brain work.

There is much appeal to wearing contact lenses, both for looks and practical purposes. Many people feel they look better without glasses on. Other people use contacts while exercising, and still others dislike how their glasses fog up when they eat soup.

But every convenience has its drawbacks. For example, contact lenses can make a person's eyes dry. A wearer's eyes can also become irritated through the use of everyday products, such as makeup and hairspray, which can get under contact lenses. It's important to figure out if contacts are right for you before you ditch your glasses to see the world in a new way.

 appeal 吸引力；contact lenses 隱形眼鏡；practical 實際的；purpose 目的；dislike 不喜歡 fog up 以霧籠罩
irritated 感到過敏、不適；makeup 化妝品；hairspray 噴霧髮膠；figure out 理解；ditch 拋棄

What is 15 inches wide, eight inches thick and made of billions of water molecules? If you guessed the world's largest snowflake, you are right! Most snowflakes are very small and are less than half an inch wide. However, a snowstorm in Fort Keogh, Montana, on January 28, 1887, produced this record 15-inch snowflake.

While some parts of the world never see snow, the white stuff permanently covers about 10 percent of the earth's surface. For snow to fall, the temperature must stay very cold. Snow forms when the water inside a cloud freezes.

Snowflakes are groups of ice crystals that fall from a cloud. Many people believe that every snowflake is unique. However, scientists have discovered two snowflakes that look exactly the same. In addition, snow is not really white-- it's clear! Different factors in the environment can also make the snow look blue, green, yellow or even pink! With all of the different colors and designs, snow really is a work of art!

📖 inch 英吋；wide 寬度；billion 十億；molecule 分子；snowflake 雪花；permanently 永久地； surface 表面；temperature 溫度；form 形成；freeze 結冰；crystal 結晶體；unique 唯一的； discover 發現；in addition 此外；factor 要素

53. What is true about the world's largest snowflake?

- (A) It is less than half an inch wide. (B) It is made of few water molecules.
(C) It is fifteen inches thick. (D) It is produced by a snowstorm in 1887.

54. What does the "white stuff" in line 4 mean?

- (A) Snowflake. (B) Snow. (C) Water molecules. (D) Cloud.

55. Which is true ?

- (A) Every snowflake is unique.
(B) Snow is always white.
(C) When the water inside a cloud freezes, snow forms.
(D) Snowflakes are rain drops that fall from a cloud.
