Pete: Would you like me to show you around our new house?

Frank: Yes, please. Where is your bedroom? Can I look at it?

Pete: My bedroom is across from my parents'.

Frank: Do you have a TV or a computer in your room?

Pete: No, the computer is in the study which is next to my room. I share a big desk with my father and my sister, Angela. Almost every evening, we study together.

Frank: All of you have good study habits. By the way, I like your dining room. The dining room and the kitchen are in the same space. It's convenient for all of you to have meals.

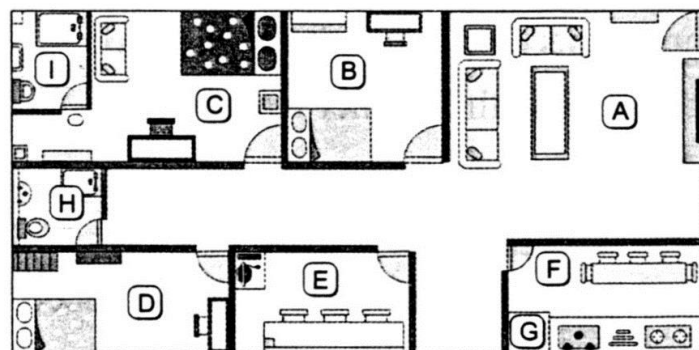

Pete: It's also convenient for us to clean the dining table and wash dishes.

Frank: Whose room is this?

Pete: It's my sister's. She doesn't really like her room because it's a little noisy. If we watch TV, she will be bothered by the loud sound.

Frank: Your house is very clean, especially your room. Do you make your bed after you get up?

Couch Potato

The word "couch potato" has its birthday every July 15. Tom Iacino first spoke the word in 1976 when he was talking on the phone. Tom was against the new fads of exercise and a healthy diet. In fact, he was a member of the boob tubers. They liked staying on the sofa, watching TV and eating junk food — especially potato chips, so he chose the word potato to refer to boob tubers.

Soon after, Robert Armstrong, another member of the boob tubers, heard the term. He drew a cartoon of a potato on a couch, started the Couch Potatoes Club, and also sold products, like T-shirts and dolls, of the cartoon. The products were quite popular.

Now couch potato is not just a cartoon. It is a term in English dictionaries to refer to a lazy TV viewer.

The Songkran Festival is held in Thailand from April 13th to 15th. April 13th is the first day of the Thai(Thailand) New Year. It falls in the hottest time of the year in Thailand and at the end of the dry season.

Most people in Thailand celebrate Songkran by throwing water at other people. This is the most prevalent way to celebrate this festival. By doing so, people in Thailand believe all the bad things will be washed away. Now many young do it for fun. You can see many people on the roads with water bottles drenching each other or even strangers who just walk by.

People also celebrate Songkran by visiting old people, family, friends, and neighbors. Besides, they also go to temples to pray and give food to monks. It's believed that doing this will bring good luck.

In other places in Thailand, people celebrate the Songkran Festival in a different way. Young women will show how beautiful they are and what they are good at by performing for others. People who watch the show decide who the winner is by placing a ring on the chosen woman.
