Ryan Hreljac is a young Canadian. When he started to help people in need, he was only a six-year-old boy, but now he has grown up into a kind young man and 42..

In the beginning, Ryan learned that many children in Africa had no clean water to drink and only $70 could help build a well 43. clean water. Then he asked his mom whether she could give him that money. She said he could do housework to get the money. He worked hard and saved each dollar. It took him four months to collect $70.

44., when Ryan gave the money to a Canadian charity to help the poor in Africa to get clean water, the person who worked there told him that $70 would be far from enough. It would cost $2000 to drill a well. But Ryan didn't give up and just said, "I'll just do more housework then." He went on working and collected money from school, friends and family. When he collected $2000, he had his first well built. Later on, however, he found that the well was dug by hand. He thought it would be much faster to dig a well by using a drilling machine. So, Ryan spent a lot on the machines, with which the wells were built much more quickly. All he wanted to do was 45..

A TV station reported this story and a number of newspaper articles followed. Money began to come. Now, Ryan's $70 has grown to over $750,000 through Ryan's Well Foundation, providing clean water and health services for people in Africa. In the very beginning, Ryan had only a plan but now he really makes a difference for our world.

Have you ever thought what will happen if there's not enough water in your everyday life? With only little water that can be used,____ 46. _____. It may sound terrible, but it's now happening in some parts of the world.

When there hasn't been enough water in a place for a long time, we call it a "drought." People have known what leads to droughts. They found that some small changes in the flow of wind, water, and temperature can have a great influence on the climate of some places. When the change of the climate comes, droughts might happen. Though climate changes may lead to droughts,____ 47. _____. Cutting trees is one example. Trees can protect the earth from the sun's heat. Without trees, the temperature becomes higher than it was. Another example is in the US. More and more people living in the north are moving to the southwest of the US because of warm weather there. However, their habits of using water in life don't change much.____ 48. _____. As more people move into the place, the need for water keeps growing.

The best way to deal with the problem of droughts right now and in the future is to use water carefully and wisely. Let's just take action in our everyday life when we still have enough water to use.

Cherry Town News

Customers First, Better Business

Lisa & Kiki Cosmetics Shop on Green Street has a smart way of running its business. Look at the picture on the right side.

In the picture, you can see two stacks of baskets. On the right are baskets with the light color label. On the label is a picture of two people. Above the two people is a sentence which says, “I NEED HELP.” On the left are baskets with the dark color label. The dark color label is different from the light color one. On it, there is only one person instead of two. And the label says, “I CAN DO MYSELF.”

When entering the shop, choose a basket from the two stacks first. If you choose one with a light color label, a clerk will kindly help you with your shopping. On the other hand, when seeing a basket with a dark color label in your hand, the clerks will let you do the shopping without any intervention.

The following is what four customers said about Lisa & Kiki Cosmetics Shop.

Customer 1 I enjoy shopping here. The clerks are very helpful. I always get what I really need... 	Customer 2 This cosmetics shop is my favorite in town. I'm shy, and I'd like to choose what I want by myself...
Customer 3 Although I've been to this friendly shop many times, I still need the clerks' help. With their help, I can save time and money... 	Customer 4 Every time I'm in the shop, I enjoy shopping quietly. Feeling happy, I always buy a lot more than I really need on every visit.

Most people write with their right hand and might also draw pictures, throw a ball, or hold a spoon with the same hand.

However, some people are left-handed. Do you know our body is lopsided in other ways, too? Studies show that around 40% of us are left-eared, 30% are left-eyed, and 20% are left-footed. But only 10% are left-handed.

Here are some easy tests to find out how we naturally use our eyes, ears, and feet.

- Test 1: Write your name on a piece of paper. Which hand do you use?
- Test 2: Choose a tree far in front of you. First, make a triangle with both hands and place the tree in the center of the triangle. Then close each eye in turn. The eye that shows the same view as the one you see with both eyes is your stronger eye.
- Test 3: Place a coin on the floor in front of you. Then stand on the coin. Which foot do you use to stand on it?
- Test 4: Ask someone to call you. Which ear do you use to “listen”?
- Test 5: Cut a piece of paper with a pair of scissors. Which hand do you hold the scissors when cutting the paper?
- Test 6: Stand at the bottom of stairs and begin to walk up the stairs. Notice which foot lands on the stairs first.
- Test 7: Stand close to someone and cover each ear in turn with a paper cup. Which ear hears more clearly when that person is talking?
- Test 8: Ask someone to stand on the other side of a wall and then ask that person to talk to you. Which ear do you put to the wall first?

 lopsided 不平衡的   triangle 三角形   coin 硬幣

52. Which is NOT needed for the above eight tests?
(A) Paper.   (B) A coin.   (C) Scissors.   (D) A pair of glasses.
53. Felix did the tests with Julie and then made the following table. What can we know from it?

R: right	Test 1	Test 2	Test 3	Test 4	Test 5	Test 6	Test 7	Test 8
L:left	hand	eye	foot	ear	hand	foot	ear	ear
Julie	L	R	R	R	L	R	R	R

- (A) They are both left-footed.
- (B) Felix may hear more clearly with his right ear.
- (C) One of them is left-handed.
- (D) Julie is left-eared, but right-eyed.
54. What can we learn from the reading?
- (A) One of our eyes may see better than the other.
- (B) There are more left-eyed people than left-eared people.
- (C) More people are left-footed.
- (D) Each of the eight tests is difficult.

55. Sam's sister, Liz, is a left-eyed person. What may she see during Test 2?

(56.~58.)

Nick Vujicic was born without limbs in Melbourne, Australia in 1982. Life was not comfortable and easy for a child like him because every day brought him new challenges like how to care for himself, how to type on a computer, and even how to play sports. What's worse, he was often laughed at and bullied when he was at school. At the age of 10, he was so stressed out that he even tried to kill himself in a bathtub.

However, his parents' love saved him from his unhappy school life. His mother showed him a story in a newspaper. The story was about a man like Nick who lived a difficult life but still did his best to enjoy it. Nick was inspired and decided to choose hope and life. He once said in an interview, "Often people asked how I try to be happy. The answer is that I have a choice. I can be angry...or I can be thankful. I choose gratitude."

With his parents' help, he started to take care of himself. He could type with his toes, play tennis and soccer, and even go swimming and surfing. After finding out he could do many things by himself, he wanted to stand out and help people who had the same problems like him. In the seventh grade, Nick started to raise money for them with his friends. When he was seventeen, he became an active speaker and helped the people who came to his speeches understand that with the right attitude, any challenge could be a turning point in one's life.

As a speaker, writer, and role model, Nick continues to touch the minds and hearts of people around the world. He tells people to live a life without limits. "If a man without arms or legs is dreaming big," he says with a smile, "why can't we all?"

challenge 挑戰 inspire 激勵 gratitude 感恩 attitude 態度 role model 榜樣

56. Why did Nick change his mind to enjoy his life?

- (A) A story of a man made him look on the bright side of his life.
- (B) His parents promised to take care of him forever.
- (C) He met a man who had the same problems like him.
- (D) He raised enough money for himself to buy anything.

promise 承諾

57. What is the main idea of this article?

- (A) A man without limbs should learn to do everything by himself.
- (B) How a man without limbs has survived and chosen a meaningful life.
- (C) Only parents' love can help kids go through any challenges in their life.
- (D) Friendship plays an important role in a person's life.

survive 倖存

58. Which one of the following is NOT Nick's view on life?

- (A) God helps those who help themselves.
- (B) Learn to be happy with yourself and never lose hope.
- (C) A life without limbs, a life full of limits.
- (D) In life you have a choice: Bitter or Better? Choose better, forget bitter.
